

The degree of overlap (log-scale) between parameter requirements and genus of species in available data

